(27089) Heidilarson = 1998 TD<sub>33</sub>

Discovered 1998 Oct. 14 by the Lowell Observatory Near-Earth Object Search at the Anderson Mesa Station.

Heidi Larson (b. 1986) is the Telescope Support Specialist at Lowell Observatory. She plays a major role in maintaining the performance of the Navy Precision Optical Interferometer. During her time at Lowell, she has filled roles as a Telescope Operator at the Lowell Discovery Telescope as well as in the public programs engaging with visitors.

 $\begin{array}{ccc} \text{Semimajor axis} & 2.16 & \text{AU} \\ \text{Eccentricity} & 0.195 \\ \text{Inclination} & 2.67 & \text{deg} \\ \text{Diameter} & 1-2 & \text{km} \end{array}$